Daring Contest

A party game for best friends who do stupid sh*t together. Some say best friends are the people you can always trust... we don't. This game will NOT require you to go outside, physically harm yourself, or be funny (the cards will do that for you.)

This game MAY require you to interact with other humans, make horrifying noises not yet known to man, do the dishes (because that's one of the dares.)

Mammoths come lumbering towards the Wall, driven by the Wildling hordes, now strengthened with two new clans. But the brothers of the Night's Watch have their own secret weapons with four new heroes, including fearless spearwives who hail from beyond the Wall themselves. With these new enemies and allies, and of course your new rivals within the Watch with an increased player count, will you be able to overcome these obstacles to become the next Lord Commander?

Catan Scenarios: Crop Trust

Many of us live in crowded places in an ever more crowded world. Food shortages and famine stress populations in poor and marginal environments. Regional plant losses threaten crop diversity. CATAN - Crop Trust is an educational but very fun game experience for the family that may lead to thoughtful understanding about the balance between nature and agriculture. Here, we introduce simple, semi-cooperative rules that enliven and educate the Catan experience. The box also contains a specially-produced almanac which explains the history of the Svalbard Global Seed Vault, Frequently Asked Questions, and examples of the importance of crop conservation: from enabling scientists to develop more resilient rice, to more nutritious maize and heat beating beans.
